Black Studies and African Studies: Institutional Histories and Futures

Clayborne Carson - Professor of History, Director of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Research and Education Institute, Stanford University

Allyson Hobbs - Associate Professor of History, Director of African & African American Studies, Stanford University

Ato Quayson - Professor of English, Stanford University, President of the African Studies Association

Richard Roberts - Professor of History, Stanford University

cosponsored by the Critical Orientations to Race and Ethnicity (CORE) Workshop

Producing Knowledge In and Of Africa

A GEBALLE RESEARCH WORKSHOP

African Literature & Cold War Afterlives: Reframing Decolonial Trajectories

Bhakti Shringarpure - Associate Professor of English at University of Connecticut (Storrs), author of Cold War Assemblages: Decolonization to Digital (2019), co-founder & editor-in-chief of Warscapes cosponsored by the Stanford University Department of English and the materia DLCL Focal Group

Nature, Power and Race: Reflections on South Africa’s Kruger National Park

Jacob Dlamini - Assistant Professor of History at Princeton University, author of Safari Nation (2020)

RSVP REQUIRED FOR ALL EVENTS

FOR REGISTRATION INFORMATION VISIT STANFORD.IO/3K5LTGJ